Five Steps for Finding the Love of Your Life

Using Your Head to Open Your Heart

Earl Hipp, author of Finding Love On Purpose, says that even with all the matchmaking resources available, finding the right life partner is still terribly difficult. He feels that a major barrier to success for most singles is a profound lack of clarity about exactly whom it is they're seeking. Regardless of how much energy is put into dating activities, without a very clear picture of their ideal life partner, a person is still inviting hopelessness and leaving the most important relationship of their life to chance.

Using a mix of lecture and discussion in this fun and very practical program, he will:

- ♥ Help people understand “habitual patterns of attraction,” and the costs of “relationship hampering.”
- ♥ Walk the audience through five steps for getting fierce clarity about a best possible life partner and a compelling vision of life together.
- ♥ Discuss seven successful strategies for comfortably stepping into the life partner quest, including preparation for speed-dating and other forms of matchmaking activities.
- ♥ Show people how to naturally and dramatically increase the “Romance Factor” in the dating life.
- ♥ Teach people how to turn hopelessness into optimism putting them in charge of this important part of their lives, and how to find love . . . on purpose.

Bio: Earl Hipp is a writer, professional speaker, and “recovering” clinical therapist. He is the author of seven books with over a half-million copies sold. His most recent book, Finding Love On Purpose, is based on his relationship coaching experience and the real life stories of the many people he has helped to find love – on purpose.

What Finding Love On Purpose readers have said:

“Thanks to you I’ve found love on purpose and it’s great! Last month I went on a blind date set up by a friend who had read my life partner list. My date was beautiful and gentle and funny and smart and all the things I had described on my list . . . and we’re getting married next month! It worked exactly as you predicted . . . only faster!” Peter G.

“At first I was unsure about making a life partner list because it seemed too simple and academic. I never expected that a year later my list would be read by the best man at my wedding to roast my new husband. We both thank you!” Aimee P.

“Thanks for liberating me from my habitual patterns of attraction. Bob is very different from the other men I’ve dated. He’s wonderful and a great fit with my life partner list. I am in love and I like where this is going!” Debby O.

Dear Earl,

Thanks for speaking at our SVTC chapter last week about your book, Finding Love On Purpose. I could tell from the laughter and the amount of interaction and audience participation that you had really connected with our group. The conversations at the social gathering afterward were all about the humor and practical suggestions you brought to what is a challenging topic for all singles.

It was a solid win for us on the program committee and we'd love to have you speak to our group again when you're back next spring.

Thanks for a great meeting.

Earl,

Thanks so much for your presentation to the members of Events and Adventures. Your program was a huge hit. It appears that while our club doesn't focus directly on matchmaking, it's high on everyone's agenda. It's clear that your Finding Love On Purpose content fills an important need for our members. In addition, your program makes us look good and that's good for business.

The evaluations indicated that people enjoyed your very conversational (and humorous) style. I was actually a little surprised at the amount of dialogue that took place. You made it easy for people to share their concerns and burning questions. Your experience with this topic really showed through because you handled all the exchanges so well.

In fact, I go so much positive feed back we want to reschedule you for another program in December. I'll be calling soon to check on your availability, but wanted to get this out.

Thank again for a solid program.

Dear Mr Hipp:

Singles All Together would like to thank you once again for your informative and interesting presentation of "Finding Love On Purpose" at our September 01, meeting - It was a big hit with our group. We had approximately 120 people in attendance that evening and I want you to know that both men and women alike gave you rave reviews. People especially appreciated your humorous and matter-of-fact delivery.

We were also pleased with the way you fielded the questions, both during the session and again after the presentation. It was very considerate of you to stay and respond to all of the folks questions even after the meeting had ended.

Mr. Hipp, we would love to have you address our singles group again in the near future. I understand you winter in Arizona and will not be available in Minnesota until Spring. However, we will be in touch with you and hopefully we can arrange for another of your great messages, when it's convenient.

With sincere appreciation,

Reid T. Burns
